

Film

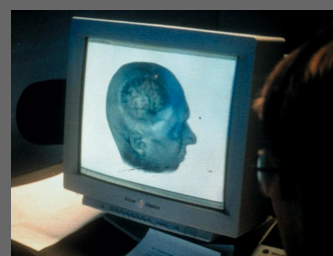

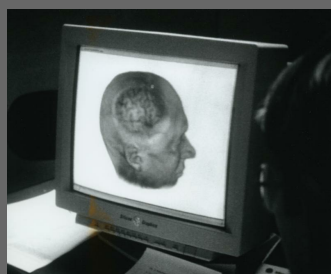

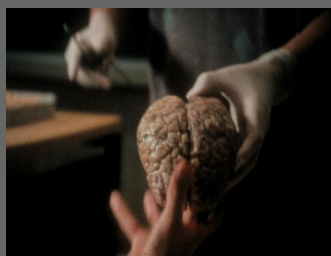

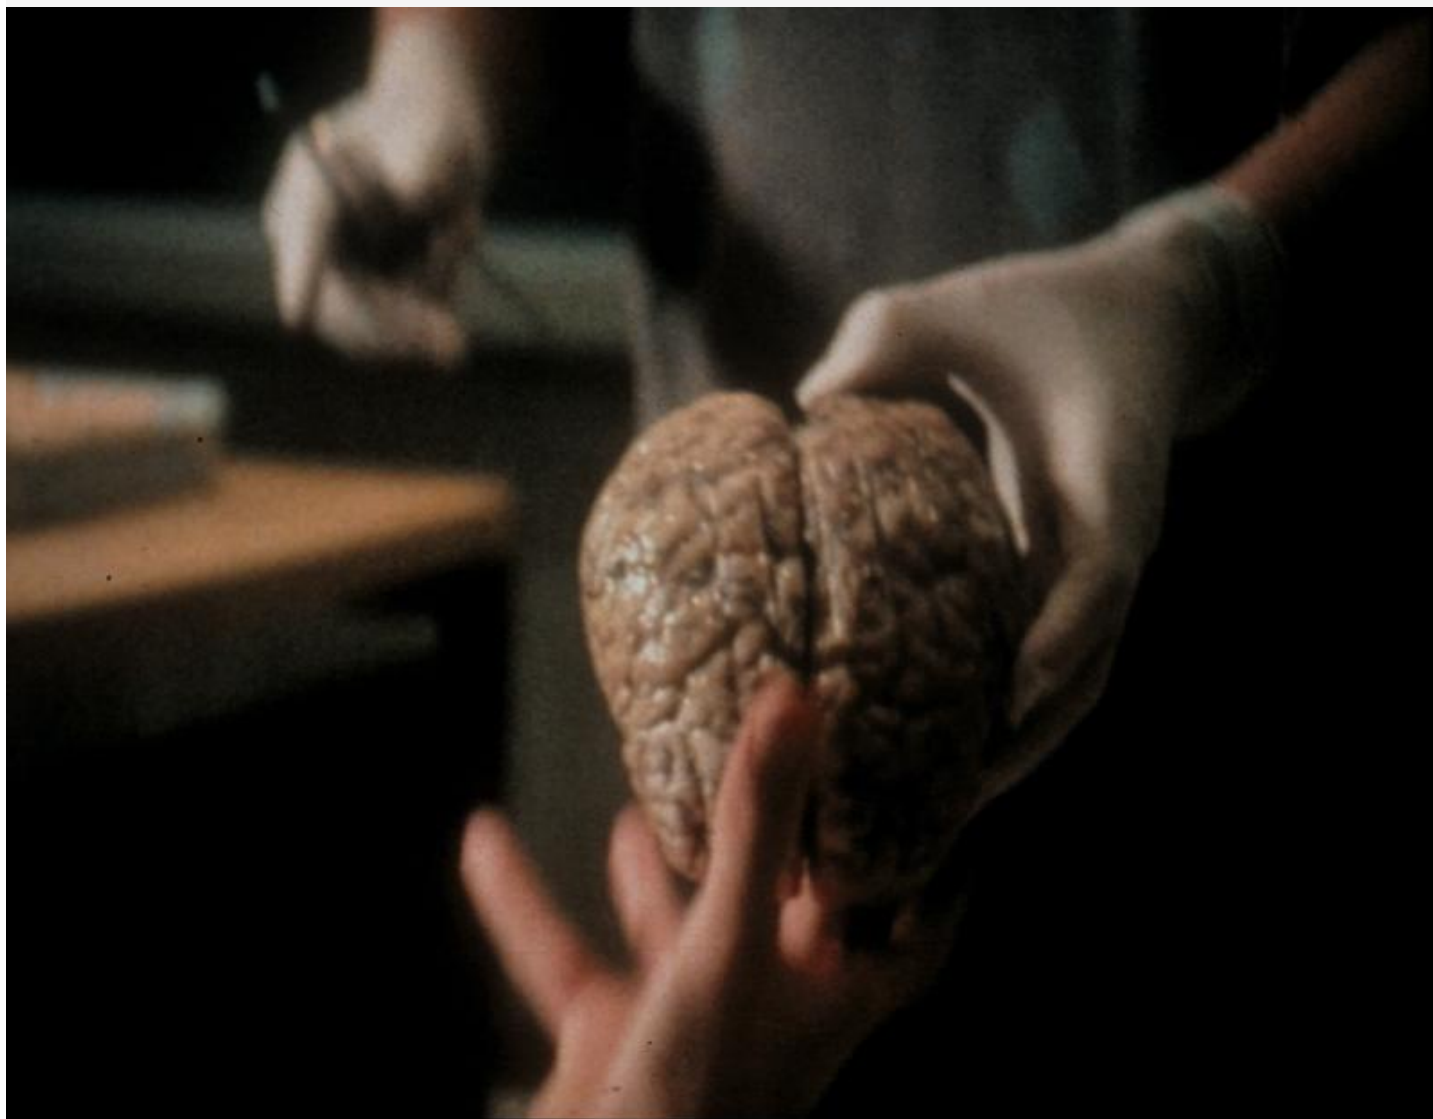

EN | DA

THE ANATOMY OF THOUGHT

Dola Bonfils, Denmark, 1997

88 min. | DK/Documentary

Man has always been interested in how our brain performs its fantastically intellectual and creative achievements, but we have not been able to watch it work till in recent years. The film is a kind of situation report from the network of research milieus which cooperate today within modern methods of picture scanning. Usually scientists research into the normal, living brain to be able to understand better its development from embryo to old age, and to be able to concentrate the efforts against the diseases of the brain: Alzheimer's disease, senility, thrombosis, sclerosis etc.

Basic information

Credits

Materials

|                         |                                                                                        |
|-------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Original title          | Tankens anatomi                                                                        |
| Danish title            | Tankens anatomi                                                                        |
| Other titles            | En film om hjerneforskning                                                             |
| Keywords                | Brain, The, Neuronal physiology, Medicin, Research, Denmark, 1990-1999 |
| Director                | Dola Bonfils                                                           |
| Screenplay              | Dola Bonfils                                                           |
| Producer                | Lise Lense-Møller                                                      |
| Director of Photography | Björn Blixt                                                            |
| Editor                  | Niels Pagh Andersen, Niels Pagh Andersen                               |
| Sound                   | Henrik Gugge Garnov                                                    |
| Composer                | Thomas Clausen                                                         |
| Production country      | Denmark                                                                                |
| Dialogue language       | Danish                                                                                 |
| Domestic distribution   | Danske Filminstitut                                                    |
| Technical info          | color                                                                                  |
| Danish rating           | Allowed for all                                                                        |

 DOWNLOAD PDF

 PRINT

WATCH THE FILM

Danmark På
Film →

Watch historical films from Denmark