JUNGLE

Silas Thorn Jensen, Jacob Pyung Hwa Jepsen, Denmark, 2016
 11 min. | DK/Documentary

In the short film 'Jungle' we follow the 33-year-old entrepreneur Jack who lives in Kibera which is the biggest slum in Afrika. Kibera is an unregulated wilderness where poverty and dreams make you live by the jungle law. Here you have to fight for your survival because nothing comes by itself. Jack is facing a meeting with a potential investor who can secure the existence of his life's work; a bone jewelry workshop where the youth can get an education and create a brighter future.

'Jungle' is a portrayal of life in the slum from an entrepreneur's point of view, where odds are stacked against you and each day is a fight for a better future.
