YOUNG

Kristian Håskjold, Denmark, 2021
23 min. | DK/Short fiction

The teenage girl Pernille and her girlfriends Zarif and Tanne are all having a great time setting up for a party when Pernille suddenly discovers that a rumor has been spread that she's had an abortion. Pernille denies the rumor and together the group of friends start slandering a girl called, Silke, who they think has started the rumor. Afraid to lose face, Pernille is quick to call out Silke at the party. However, when the group finds her, the situation quickly escalates out of control making Pernille give into the pressure, ultimately taking the revenge a step too far. Afterwards they all hope to leave the incident behind them, but Pernille is haunted by her actions, as well as a secret gnawing in the back of her mind, and in the end the weight of them both will turn out to be too much to bear.
