

Film

EN | DA

SELANDIA - THE FIRST DIESEL MOTOR SHIP

Denmark, 1912

2 min. | Non-fiction footage

In 1898 the production of diesel engines was commenced at Burmeister & Wain in Copenhagen. In 1912 the first diesel motor ship, 'Selandia', was launched. The engineering endeavor received much acclaim both domestically and abroad. 'Selandia' sank by the Japanese coast in 1941.

Basic information

Credits

Original title	Selandia
Danish title	Selandia
Other titles	Verdens første Dieselskib, 'Selandia' - Verdens første Dieselmotorskib
Keywords	Ships , Marine engines , Copenhagen Harbour , Winter , 1910-1919
Production country	Denmark
Domestic distribution	DFI/Museum & Cinematek
Technical info	35 mm, 1,33:1, Black/white, Silent

 DOWNLOAD PDF

 PRINT

WATCH THE FILM

Danmark På
Film →

Watch historical films from Denmark