THE REDTOPS

Svend Johansen, Denmark, 1988
73 min. | DK/Feature | Children's films

Kiddie fun and thrills about seven sub-teeners who ally themselves with Grete, a contemporary state-of-the-art witch, in thwarting the plans of a group of corrupt builders and politicians to raze an idyllic patch of forest in order to use the site for new rows of concrete housing projects. The kids wear red tufts of hair as their fighter badges. An environmental message is tied neatly to the suspense.
