Why do the Adventures of Tintin continue to fascinate its readers even in adulthood? Hergé, the Belgian creator of Tintin, tried himself to answer this question in a unique interview that has never been published before in its full length. Hergé explains how the Adventures of Tintin are profoundly connected to the tensions and conflicts during the 20th century and to his own life, as well. This documentary film is an autobiographic journey of the life and the brilliant work of Hergé - in his own voice and on the original tape.
