

Rune Bendixen, Denmark, 2007
85 min. | DK/Feature | Youth films

A story about a group of rich kids, from old money families, north of Copenhagen, from a world where people with ambition and power rule. The kids are often left alone, feeling rejected and spending most of their time living on the edge, transcending boundaries, seeking attention, often trying to get revenge against people who don't listen to them. Away from the superficiality and pretention of their social class, they live a secret life, in which power, money, sex, drugs and endless secrets dominate. A lifestyle only a few of them can survive and where most become scarred for life.

Writer, director Rune Bendixen spent 6 months with the group of rich kids, interviewing them. His script for »Rich Kids« is based on these interviews.
