LAURINE AND NØRREBRO

Lise Roos, Denmark, 1984
 24 min. | DK/Documentary

About the development in the part of Copenhagen called 'Den sorte firkant' in Nørrebro. What happened when the ramparts fell and what lay beyond them became overbuilt areas? For a year, the film crew followed today's way of handling a whole quarter with slum clearance and that redevelopment referred to at the town hall as the 'Overall Plan' through the eyes of Laurine, Denmark's oldest squatter.
