Irene Werner Stage, Denmark, 1989

18 min. | DK/Documentary

An evening at '57. In winter, the members of the club meet every sunday evening for a dance and a 'bite'. The evening passes according to a certain ritual and ends with the president singing 'Auf Wiedersehen'. 'The nice thing about the old folks' dance is that the energy lies with the people who are dancing' it is said. And it is precisely this energy which is special for '57'.
