

Lasse Barkfors, Frida Barkfors, Denmark, 2014

75 min. | DK/Documentary

Florida Justice Transitions looks like any other American trailer park. Only discreet electronic ankle tags and sporadic vandalism bear witness to the fact that the residents are all convicted sex offenders. From misdemeanours to monstrous crimes. And in a state with tough laws, this means in practice that the inhabitants are condemned to a life in isolation from society. The park's residents are left to themselves to find out what comes after crime and punishment. The film lends a human face to an outcast community of demonised sex offenders - and forces us to take sides in a moral dilemma, which is more profound and complex than one possibly feels like being reminded of. For no matter whether the residents themselves are victims, one inevitably asks oneself if there are some things that can not - or should not? - be forgiven.

Basic information

Credits

Festivals & awards

Materials

Original title	Pervert Park
Danish title	Pervert Park
Keywords	USA, Florida, Social exclusion, Sexual assaults, Criminals, Sexual assaults, Sex offenders, Pervert Park, Children
Director	Lasse Barkfors, Frida Barkfors
Screenplay	Frida Barkfors, Lasse Barkfors
Producer	Frida Barkfors, Anne Köhncke
Director of Photography	Lasse Barkfors
Editor	Signe Rebekka Kaufmann, Lasse Barkfors
Appearances	William Fuery, Tracy Hutchinson, James Broderick, Don Sweeney (II)
Production country	Denmark, Sweden
Production companies	Final Cut for Real ApS

Your experience at dfi.dk will be enhanced if you allow cookies - Read more

ACCEPT