

Sofie Nørgaard Kampmark, Denmark, 2015

7 min. | DK/Short fiction | Animation

Haru, a middleaged Japanese man, returns to his destroyed home after a tsunami in complete denial. Trapped inside his home, he discovers a Spirit of the Sea. After initially ignoring it, he soon discovers that the creature is drying out and dying. Haru realises he is facing a choice. Should he remain in denial, pretending nothing has changed, or should he accept his tragic loss and forgive the creature that took everything from him?
